

Aunty Rosie, a Christian, had stopped attending services when the doors of the Canal 1 Church Building were closed a year or two ago.

The Canal 1 congregation has resumed meeting, and after visiting on July 26, she has returned to worship .

She lives almost 2 miles from the building, but walks back and forth.

Yesterday, she was back carrying a black plastic bag with a handful of cement, and a small bottle of water, (to fill the cracks on the concrete floor of the building), 4 pints brown paint, 3 sheets of sand paper, rags and a paint brush - her donation to scrub and paint the church benches.

What makes Aunty Rosie story interesting is a) She is 85+ years and a widow

b) She saw a need in the church and without being told, she was willing to contribute.

My friends, you can draw your own conclusions and lessons but to me Aunty Rosie is my heroine.

She came, she saw, and she contributed.

What an inspiration!

God is good!

HM

(HM Latchminarine is the director of the School of Preaching in Georgetown, Guyana, and a minister.)